

NEC's Virtual Desktop Solution with Microsoft RemoteFX

NEC has collaborated with Microsoft for more than 10 years. Toward Windows Server 2008 R2 SP1 release, NEC and Microsoft had tested SP1 new feature "RemoteFX" from beta-phase together.

What's RemoteFX?

RemoteFX delivers a rich user experience for your virtual remote desktop environment, using particular set of hardware. You can also use USB devices in a virtual machine as like at a physical machine.

What does the NEC's solution bring?

This solution is simple and affordable especially for SMB. We are excited to provide you with well-balanced solution among cost, performance and footprint.

Exhibition at Microsoft Tech-Ed Europe 2011

NEC exhibited our thin client solution at Microsoft Tech-Ed Europe 2011 in Berlin. Thank you to many visitors!!

Customer's Voice

• I was exactly looking for such a solution for virtual desktop!